TRIAL OF CEASER FOR ALLEGED ATTACK

Miss Jessie Garland, 15 Years Old, Tells Jury

OCCURRED OCTOBER 16

Court Cleared During Testimony of Young Woman—Case to be Given Jury Late This Afternoon

Joseph Ceaser, charged with attacking Miss Jessie Garland, fifteen years old, today was placed on trial in the corporation court, Judge Robinson Moncure presiding. A jury was quickly secured and the taking of testimony begun.

Miss Garland, formerly employed as a clerk in the fruit store conducted by the accused, was the first witness to take the stand. The courtroom was cleared of all spectators during the progress of her testimony. According to the young woman for about five weeks she had been employed by Ceaser as a clerk and her salary was first $8 a week and subsequently fixed at $15 a week. Ceaser owed her five weeks back salary as declared, and about a month prior to the charge being made against him, she said she went to his establishment on King street for her money and Ceaser, she alleged attacked her and afterward threatened to cut her throat with a razer if she told anyone. Witness said she remained away from his place for three evenings and then returned to work. It claims that she told her mother and that on November 6 the mother procured a warrant for the arrest of Ceaser. In the warrant it is set forth that the alleged attack occurred October 16.

The young woman was cross examined by Attorney Charles Henry Smith who represents Ceaser. She admitted that since the warrant was issued for attacking her, suit also had been instituted against Ceaser to recover the $75 alleged to be due her for wages.

The case is being prosecuted by the commonwealth's attorney Howard W. Smith.

A recess was taken at 1.30 o'clock and court reconvened at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon and two witnesses were heard after which the instructions were argued and the final arguments by the attorneys begun. The accused did not go on the stand.

The trial was attended by a good sized crowd, principally young men. It is expected that the case will be given to the jury about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The jury is composed of Charles O. Iverson, Charles L. Folmer, R. P. Whitestone, W. B. Daingerfield, Roger C. Sullivan, B. Abramson, Walter L. Hagan, M. Jaffa, John A. Cogan and Frank C. Pullin, John A. Cogan and Walter C. Drury.

MOURNERS' UMBRELLAS STOLEN FROM UNDERTAKER

Martinsburg, W. Va., Dec. 7.—The slickest thief in Martinsburg looted the undertaker H. M Cole's business office the other day. Not content with stealing implements used by the funeral director, the thief stole his supply of umbrellas usually loaned to mourners on a rainy day.

Fortunately the coffins are kept in a rear warehouse, or the thief might have picked out several styles appropriate to himself.

INTEREST IN XMAS SEALS

Virginians are taking an active interest in the anti-tuberculosis work being done in the State, and many prominent men and women are busily engaged in trying to make the Christmas Seal Sale for 1920 the largest which has ever been held in this State.

Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, director of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, 606 East Grace street, announces that 82 counties and 20 cities are organized for the seal sale, and others are rapidly getting in line for a strenuous campaign. The following counties have completed their organization and have begun the sale of the little seals which support the anti-tuberculosis work: Accomac, Albemarle, Arlington, Alleghaney, Amelia, Augusta, Bath, Bedford, Buchanan, Buckingham, Caroline, Charles City, Charlotte, Chesterfield, Clarke, Culpeper, Cumberland, Dickinson, Dinwiddie, Elizabeth City, Fairfax, Fauquier, Floyd, Fluvanna, Franklin, Giles, Gloucester, Goochland, Grayson, Greensville, Halifax, Henrico, Hanover, Henry, Highland, Isle of Wight, James City, King and Queen, King George, Lancaster, Loudoun, Louisa, Lunenburg, Madison, Mathews, Mecklenburg, Middlesex, Montgomery, Nansemond, Nelson, Norfolk, Northampton, Northumberland, Nottoway, Orange, Page, Patrick, Pittsylvania, Powhatan, Prince Edward, Prince George, Princess Anne, Prince William, Pulaski, Rappahannock, Roanoke, Rockbridge, Rockingham, Russell, Scott, Shenandoah, Smyth, Stafford, Surry, Sussex, Tazewell, Warren, Warwick, Washington, Westmoreland, Wise and Wythe.

The cities of Bristol, Alexandria, Charlottesville, Clifton Forge, Danville, Fredericksburg, Front Royal, Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Richmond, Roanoke, Staunton, Williamsburg, Winchester, Harrisonburg, Suffolk, Radford and East Radford are now conducting an active sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds.

Sweet Briar College is helping in this work by conducting a seal sale among the students.

ARMENIA OUTLOOK ALARMING AND CONTRADICTORY

Geneva, Dec. 7.—The Armenian outlook here is very discouraging. The news from Armenia, both contradictory and of an alarming nature, reporting a Bolshevist regime and renewed massacre, has obscured the deliberations of the Armenian Commission of the League behind a cloud of pessimism.

The whole question which only a fortnight ago was received with acclamation by an enthusiastic and young assembly anxious to accomplish something has shrunk to the proportions of a third-rate motion awaiting consideration in a pigeonhole.

The Armenian Commission is marking time, hoping for some move in America. Lord Robert Cecil says he hopes enough money will soon be forthcoming to enable the league to do something. The committee is unable to say however, what it intends to do when it gets the money.

A problem that may change the whole aspect of the Armenian question is contained in yesterday's dispatches giving details of the growing Bolshevist invasion of Asia Minor.

Moss were arraigned before a Magistrate here yesterday and held without bail to await action by the coroner in connection with the killing of Henry T. Peirce, manufacturers 'agent, who was beaten to death in his apartment here on November 20. They were later removed from the Central Police Station to the County Prison.

PLANS FOR PEACE IN ERIN HAS ITS FOES

Reported England's Official Family is Divided on Question

BANS ANY PARLEY

Withdrawal of Troops and Release of All Political Prisoners Demanded

London, Dec. 7.—Premier Lloyd George said yesterday that the Government was ready to discuss an Irish truce with any responsible representatives of Ireland.

His statement was made in reply to a number of questions made in the House of Commons in regard to the Irish question. The Premier showed clearly that he was anxious that nothing should be said in the House which might prove injurious to the opening of negotiations.

The Premier said that he had not had sufficient time to consider the message from the Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, which declared that Ireland was also willing to make peace at once, and which inquired what steps the Premier proposed first.

Mr. Lloyd George was asked whether he had seen the report that the Dublin Sinn Fein Council had passed a resolution declaring that anyone who entered into negotiations with the British Government would be guilty of treachery. He replied that he had seen no such report and he hoped that no such resolution had been adopted.

Although he would not say that he was hopeful of peace, the Premier said he would try to discover whether Father O'Flanagan was qualified to speak for Ireland.

The remarkable change in the country's attitude towards Ireland in the past week was evident in the House yesterday. The bitter opponents of Ireland, particularly those who are constantly nagging the Nationalists members, made no interruptions and the entire House gave the Premier the closest attention.

A great many arrests continue to be made in Dublin, Six City Councilors being among those made prisoners today. The total arrests for the last fortnight exceeded 600.

Some discussion of the terms of the pronosed armistice already has taken place in Dublin. The Sinn Feiners say they will ask for a general amnesty and a guarantee of the liberty of their leaders.

As anticipated, however, the difficulty of bridging the gulf between the Sinn Fein and the British Government is very great and yesterday some reports that obstacles are being placed in the way by responsible representatives of both sides and by those in close association with them. It is hinted that Lloyd George's official family is divided on the question, while Dublin reports that the local Sinn Fein Council has adopted a resolution branding as guilty of treachery anyone acting without the authorization of Dail Eireann.

If these reports are true then Arthur Griffith George Russell an Father O'Flanagan, acting president of Sinn Fein, are placed in this category. Nevertheless, the movement is gaining strength daily.

New York, Dec. 7.—England must withdraw all British troops from Ireland and liberate all political prisoners as a preliminary to restore peace in Ireland, Eamonn de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," declared here yesterday, in a statement relative to the message dispatched to Premier Lloyd George concerning the Premier's initial steps leading to peace.

"The removal of the aggression, obviously is both the initial and also the final step—that is, as I have said, the whole essence of the trouble between the two countries." Mr. de Valera said he had not been in direct negotiations with Lloyd George in the interests of the restoration of Ireland.

Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the Lord Mayor of Cork, commenting on the message to Lloyd George, said:

"To use a slang expression I have learned since coming to America, I think the Irish are calling Lloyd George's bluff."

Senator Glass Assumes Martin's Toga; Replaces Saunders in House

Washington, Dec. 7.—Senator Glass took the oath of office today as a Gladys M. Rodgers, daughter of Mr. of Virginia and in the House Rorer James took his seat as a Representative to succeed Judge Saunders from the Fifth Congressional District. Each was elected for a "short" term, Senator Glass to serve out the remainder of the Martin term, which expires March 3, 1925, and Mr. James to serve for the remainder of the Saunders term, which expires March 3, 1921. Mr. James also was elected for a two year term of his own beginning on March 3.

Senator Swanson was the first member of the Senate to gain the recognition of the chair at the opening session today. He asked the privilege of presenting Senator Glass' credentials. Immediately after the divine invocation, Senator Underwood was the next, who wished to present the credentials of Representative Heflin, of Alabama. Senator Glass and Senator Heflin were immediately conducted to the Vice-President's chair, where Mr. Marshall administered the oath, Senator Glass was escorted by Senator Swanson and Senator Heflin by Senatorr Underwood.

Every member of the Virginia delegation in both branches of Congress was present when the two gavels fell at noon today.

HAMON EVIDENCE IN LOCKED ROOM

Ardmore, Okla., Dec. 7.—Clothing worn by the late Jake L. Hamon when he was fatally shot at a hotel here November 21 and the pistol from which the bullet that ended his life is alleged to have been fired are in a locked hotel room to which the key has been lost, according to an announcement yesterday by Russell R. Brown, county attorney, who is directing investigation of Mr. Hamon's death and the search for Miss Clara Smith charged with the shooting.

Mr. Brown said he attached much importance to the articles. When he requested Sheriff Buck Garrett to obtain the clothing and pistol four days ago, it was said the sheriff never had had possession of them, but that they were in the hands of Charles L. Ketch, who was then in Texas on business. Today he told the sheriff he did not have the articles and knew nothing of them, adding that Mrs. Hamon cleaned up the room after Mr. Hamon was shot. Mr. Ketch authorized the sheriff to have a key made and open the room.

Frank Adams, of Ardmore, formerly attorney for Mr. Hamon, told Mr. Brown he knew nothing of the where abouts of Clara Smith.

Mrs. Hamon the widow, and her children, Jake L., Jr., and Olive Belle, left yesterday for Ranger, Texas. No record of a will of Mr. Hamon disposing of his reputed vast estate has been revealed.

SEE NO HOPE OF MAKING NEW YORK CITY "DRY"

New York, Dec. 7.—United States attorneys who have been prosecuting violators of the dry law agree with the declaration of Frank L. Boyd, until recently Federal enforcement agent here, that trying to make New York arid with the present force of agents is a "hopeless task." Several thousand arrests have been made since last January, probably a hundred convictions obtained and scores have pleaded guilty, knowing they would be let off with a light fine, but liquor continues to be as plentiful, if not, more so, the agents says, and the body politic has come to view the Eighteenth Amendment as more or less of a joke.

Two warehouses located in Manhattan and Brooklyn literally are bulging with the vast amount of liquor government agents have confiscated since the edict went into effect. Several raids by authorities have netted as high as 1500 to 2000 cases of whisky and from a dozen to twenty barrels of distilled spirits. All of this liquor (upon which a flat valuation of $4,000,000 is placed) slowly is going through the process of evaporation in the warehouse. No means for its disposal has yet been discovered.

General Bullard Hit In Eye by Golf Ball

New York, Dec. 7.—General Robert Lee Bullard, commanding the Department of the East, was struck in the eye by a golf ball yesterday and painfully injured. Surgeons in the Fort Jay Hospital on Governor's Island, however, said that the general is able to see and that no apprehension was felt that he would lose the sight of the eye.

HARDING'S VIEWS UPON ISSUES OF DAY

Outlines Wishes and Intentions In Talk With Newspaper Men

SEEKS COMPROMISE

Will Call Early Session of Congress to Revise Tax Laws—He Opens Discussion

Washington, Dec. 7.—President-elect Harding, in an hour's interview yesterday afternoon with newspaper men, gave definite expression to a number of views he holds regarding the issues of the day. He had refrained from discussing these in his speech before the Senate.

Mr. Harding's wishes and intentions summaried are:

"An effort to find a line on which we can stand as to the country's foreign policy.

"An early extra session of Congress, at which revision of the tax laws will be undertaken.

"Passage of the Budget bill by this Congress.

"Beginning of hearings on the tariff question at an early date.

"Concentration of the attention of Congress proper upon getting through his session all of the appropriation bills for the 1922 fiscal year.

At the same time the President-elect let it be known that no definite action has been taken on the Cabinet.

The first five minutes of Mr. Harding's stay in the gallery were given to handshaking with all of the correspondents who had assembled. He moved from end to end of the room, pencil at ease before the array of pads and pencils. His attitude was that he was a newspaper man among newspaper men and that he could speak from the heart out. That attitude became more clearly developed as the interview progressed, for, when he felt that he was on delicate ground and in danger of being put in an unpleasant position, he promptly called upon the correspondents to "lay off."

All through the interview the President-elect projected an insistent note that he be not placed in an attitude of presuming or of appearing to "unduly anticipate." Mr. Harding remarked that his appearance in Washington at the opening of the session of Congress was natural, as were his conferences with members of Congress, particularly Senators.

"Here, Mr. Ered Man," he said laughingly, when he had done with handshaking, and had seated himself at the end of the long table, "I will be the interlocutor.

"I have felt," he went on before anyone could assume the work of the good man, "that I do not want three months wasted in any sought for partisan advantage, and I have expressed that view as opportunity has been given me to do so properly during the day.

"I want to say—and I wish that ample notice will be taken of it by the newspapers—that I have arranged with Senator Underwood to protect my pairs until my successor enters the Senate. I wanted to say so to the Senate today, for I regard it as very generous in Senator Underwood, occupying the position he does, to be willing to protect my pairs for so long a time, but the Vice-President rather took me off my feet when he called me to the rostrum, and I forgot to do so.

"In what I said to the Senate today, regarding the co-operation between the executive and the legislative branches, I was wholly sincere. I am hoping for an administration in which there will be the most cordial and helpful relations between the two branches. We got away from it during the war, largely because of the exigencies that arose at that time. That is not a criticism of the executive.

"Now, let me say to you that I have asked the Senators with whom I have conferred during the day to expedite passage of the appropriation bills so that the decks may be cleared.

BARRING THE SOLACE OF SMALL TALK

Casual conversation will no longer be permitted to lighten the labors of the day at the State, War and Navy Building in Washington. The superintendent has imposed the obligation of silence upon all but official business; and in each case, he says, it must be proved to be official business. The penalty for the first infraction of the rule will be the loss of a day's pay. What further terrors are in store for those who offend a second time can only be surmised, "Such punishment as the circumstances warrant," is the cryptic threat.

Presumably the rule has been made in behalf of that modern god, efficiency. Government employees traditionally take life easily, and refrain from anything that savors of overwork. That official business has waited upon exchanges of personal confidences or disussions of political and social questions is quite conceivable. But it remains to be seen if the sum total of achievement will be materially increased by the superintendent's decree. May not the minutes wasted in cheerful gossip have been more than made up by renewed task for the task? Will a silent, sullen force be as capable as a noisy, contented one?

Man is not a machine, after all, though in most schemes of efficiency he is so reckoned. Thus his product cannot be neatly ticked off in hours and minutes. There must be discipline, of course, in a large clerical force, and perhaps the discipline in the State, War and Navy Building has been lax. But a sweeping prohibition like this may conceivably fail of its purpose and create a feeling of discontent which will be a greater obstacle to industry than any waste of time due to conversation.

PENNILESS BRIDEGROOM OF 65 SUES WIFE OF 19 AND KIN FOR FORTUNE

Atlantic City, Dec. 7.—Penniless at 65 years, William P. Riffle, once a wealthy resident of Uniontown Pa., appeared as the complaining witness before Vice Chancellor Leaming here yesterday in action he has brought against his 19-year-old wife and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mathews, of this city, to compel the latter to give an accounting for $50,000 which he turned over to them.

Riffles declared on the witness stand that Mrs. Mathews, two years ago, had shown him the picture of her niece, then 17 years old, when he came to her hotel on South Illinois avenue in the search of health. He said that he became enamoured of the girl and Mrs. Mathews brought her to the hotel. They became engaged, after he had promised to give her $10,000, and shortly afterwards were married. He testified that he gave Mr. and Mrs. Mathews nearly $50,000, with the understanding that the money was to be invested in real estate.

After his money was gone and Mrs. Mathews had given him no accounting of the investments, he said, he charged his wife with selling the furniture he had purchased for their home despite his protest. She then gave him $16 of the proceeds to go to his home and even tried to take that away from him before he left the house, according to his testimony.

The defense sought to show that the money had been expended to pay for $6000 worth of clothes purchased by the young wife, an expensive automobile and diamonds and jewelry

REFUSES TO BE DEAD

Chicagoan Just Will Not Believe Body At Morgue Is His

Chicago, Dec. 7.—"Where do you get that stuff—who said I am dead—who says it?" demanded Alexander Adamovich, as he paced the floor of the Central Undertaking rooms yesterday and glared murderously at everybody and everything.

His wife sought to soothe him.

"Of course you are not dead," said his helpmate.

"But there's your corpse on that slab—read the tag tied to the toe," said the undertaker grimly. "We identified you from a badge."

After Adamovich and his wife had been cooled down to the point where they would listen to explanations, it was found that the identification tag had been stolen from him four years ago when he worked for the Standard Oil Company.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

ed for a probable extra session of Congress."

"When will the session be called?" Mr. Harding was asked.

"I cannot say exactly but very soon after the new administration assumes offices. Congress, with the appropriation bills out of the way, can work well in the spring months. I have been here long enough to understand what can be done in those months. There will be a recommendation to the extra session for revision of the taxation system."

Mr. Harding was asked when he expected his successor to enter the Senate. He replied that former Governor Frank B. Willis, elected to succeed him for the full term, would be appointed to serve the balance of his term and that he expected him to come to the Senate between January 10 and 15. The new Governor of Ohio is a Republican, will take office on January 10 and will appoint Mr. Willis after Mr. Harding's resignation is tendered.

This discussion of Mr. Harding's successor in the Senate led to another of more or less personal nature. He said that he was going back to Marion and that he would not be back in Washington until the inauguration but that he was not certain whether he would spend the whole winter in his home town. Those in the Harding party said it was possible that the Senator and Mrs. Harding would go South.

OH, WOE! THEIR XMAS GREEN WAS POISON IVY

Boston, Dec. 7.—Glossy leaves dredged over a stone wall outside the city limits attracted the attention of four fur-coated young women out for an automobile ride yesterday and they gathered a huge bunch for Christmas decorations. As they were stowing back into their limousine William A. L. Bassly, State commissioner of conservation, drove up and halted the party.

Without revealing his identity he gravely reminded them that raids on roadside greenery made them liable to arrest and the suspension of their automobile license.

"We didn't think it so serious," replied one of the young women.

"Well," remarked the commissioner "it may be. That stuff's poison ivy."

TO CUT BUDGET

Estimates Totaling Over 4 1-2 Billions Must be Pruned, Says Warren

The enormous budget estimates totaling $4,653,856,750 presented to Congress yesterday will be pruned approximately one-third, according to Senator Francis E. Warren, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee which will pass upon all appropriations.

Senator Warren indicated that the situation only can be remedied by a slow process of adjustment.

"It would be committing hari-kari to cut the appropriations in half as has been suggested," said Senator Warren, who is recognized as one of the leading authorities on national finance.

"We have obligations that must be met. The seriousness of conditions is revealed by the continual issuance of 6 per cent treasury obligations of the government. The banks already have about as much of this paper as they can carry and soon new methods will have to be devised.

"The nation must be resigned to the fact that material reduction in taxes cannot be secured for at least two years. Real relief, however, can be obtained by readjusting and equalizing the present grossly inequitable methods by which taxes are levied."

Other leaders in Congress do not believe that the estimates, which are $1,000,000,000 in excess of appropriations for the present year, can be reduced to the extent Senator Warren believes. Most of them are traceable in large part, to the war.

The interest on the public debt alone amounts to $922,650,000. In addition, estimates for the war debt sinking fund amounting to $265,754,864 were submitted. These two items alone are largely in excess of pre-war estimates.

SHIFTING ENGINE KILLS AUTOIST ON CROSSING

Bridgeton, N. J. Dec. 7.—His automobile struck by a shifting engine at the Irving avenue crossing of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad, yesterday afternoon, Joseph Lange, 22 years old, died a few minutes later at the Bridgeton Hospital. His body was badly mangled.

He was a son of Studdams Lange, of Elmer, and had been in the employ of the Seabrook Farms Company as a machinist since last May. He was unmarried. Coroner Wenneth B. Carll was summoned and will hold an inquest.

Allies Warn Germany Not to Attack Treaty

Berlin, Dec. 7.—A joint British, French and Belgian note has been handed to the German Government protesting against speeches recently made in the occupied territories by members of the German Government as calculated to cause trouble and bring the execution of the Versailles Treaty into question. The note utters a grave warning that such speeches by responsible persons must be avoided in the future.

Chancellor Fehrenbach and Dr. Simons, the German Foreign Minister, have recently returned from a visit to the Rhine provinces, where they delivered speeches in which not only the internal policy of Germany was discussed, but matters closely connected with the Treaty of Versailles were brought to the front in such a way as to be considered by the Allies as the prelude of a concerted effort to obtain revision of the treaty.

SMALLPOX CLOSES SCHOOLS

Number of Cases Discovered Among Pupils in Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Discovery of a number of cases of smallpox among pupils at Oak Park High School resulted in closing that institution yesterday by the health officials. Fifty teachers and more than 1,700 pupils were barred from the building by the order. The building will be fumigated, and when it is reopened only teachers and pupils who have been vaccinated will be admitted.

Smallpox has appeared in a number of the city schools and several hundred pupils have been excluded from the class rooms because their parents will not permit them to be vaccinated.

In Evanston the situation is serious. Twenty-four cases of smallpox have been reported in the schools.

Aged Woman Tied And Left to Die on Ocean Shore

Hampton, Va., Dec. 7.—The glare from a street car headlight last night disclosed to the motorman the form of a woman lying in a marsh. It was found she had been bound hand and foot with stout cords. She was about 75 years of age.

When found she was unconscious. Revived, she said she was in bed at her home when a man unknown to her entered her house, bound her and carried her to the marsh.

The tide was low at the time, and the woman was found in the mud. Had the tide been high when she was thrown it, she would have been drowned. The woman was clad in her nightgown.

IDLE HOUR

The elite of Washington society forms the background for "The Wonder Man" the Robertson-Cole superspecial picture, starring Georges Carpentier, idol of France and European heavyweight champion, which is showing today at the Idle Hour Theater.

This unusual drama of American society, directed by John G. Adolfi, for Robertson-Cole. promises a revelation in motion pictures of the newer and better sort. The versatility of Carpentier, according to eminent critics who attended a recent preview, will prove a great surprise to lovers of the cinema art.

Based on an intriguing story of love and mystery, in which Carpentier is given opportunity to display his capacity as a boxer, a sportsman and as a gentleman of the first order, "The Wonder Man," should prove to be one of the most commendable productions that the Idle Hour Theater has ever presented.

"MILLIONAIRE" BY NIGHT." BEGGAR BY DAY

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—In a suit for annulment of marriage filed by Mrs. Lillian Geraldine Van D'Loye against James Robert Van D'Loye, it has been disclosed that the defendant, who posed as the son of a New York millionaire, was in reality a beggar who sought alms during the day as a deaf mute and played the part of a rich man at night.

The plaintiff, who was a Miss Leitch, of Virginia, came to California last September, according to her story. She was 17. She met Van D'Loye and he invited her to dinner. He talked, she said, of his wealthy father, who gave him an income of $100 a week. He proposed and she married him in Redwood City.

In her complaint, the wife says, she soon discovered her husband was a fraud. She says his true name is J. Leslie Sheldon and that by means of a false certificate stating he is deaf and dumb he has been "working" the unwary on the plea that he was trying to raise funds to get back to his home in Topeka.

After she had filed her suit for annulment of her marriage, Mrs. D'Loye asked the police for a warrant for her husband's arrest on a charge of burglary. She says he broke into her room at a hotel and stole a camera and other pawnable articles. Van D'Loye has disappeared.

The wife says she discovered she had been deceived when she found cards in her husband's pockets reading: "I am deaf and dumb. Alms, for pity's sake, alms." But this was not until after her husband had borrowed all her money. She left him and refused to see him, but once he climbed the fire escape to the window of her room to plead with her to take him back, she declares.

ART SPIRIT MYSTERY BAFFLING SCIENTISTS

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Chicago has an art spirit mystery that is baffling not only scientists, but the artist herself.

For ten years Mrs. Emma Mabel Field, 4024 Clarendon Avenue, has been drawing fantastic pictures of Egyptian figures, symbols and scenes She is absolutely ignorant of any knowledge of Egyptian decoration or symbolism, has no conception of draftsmanship or mechanical art work.

While Mrs. Field has no idea of the meaning of the pictures, Professor James, of the University of Minnesota, has seen them and can read every symbol and recognize hundreds of Egyptian stories told in scenes drawn on Egyptian tombs. Artists who have seen her work declare that she uses the shading of a sculptor and that clay is her real medium.

Auction Sale

Public sale of Holsteins at Rockbridge Dairy Farm Wednesday, December 15 (rain or shine), on the far mof David N. Rust, Jr., located three miles east of Leesburg, Loudoun county, on the Washington Leesburg Pike and being on Goose Creek, ten minutes walk from Comber Station on the Washington and Old Dominion Railway. Car leaves Alexandria at 7:10 a. m., arriving at 9:30 o'clock. Will be met. Having decided to discontinue dairying I will offer at public auction on above date and place without reservation my entire herd of milking Holsteins. 80 head, 16 head registered animals, 64 head high grade cows. The majority of these animals have been bred and developed right on the farm and were sired by such noted bulls as Kng of Butter Boy, King's Son and Soldiers Home Woodcrest Tehee. These cows are all young straight and sound and have never been forced in dairy, but simply run on blue grass pasture in summer and consumed the roughage on the farm in winter with little grain fed. Consequently they will respond immediately to heavy feeding. Some are fresh now milking well and quite a number due within thirty to sixty days. All bred to fine registered bull. The grades are well marked and will make a valuable addition to any herd. The pure breds carry some of the best blood of the breed. The cows have just passed the annual Federal test and health certificates can be issued for shipment to any state in the union. This herd is considered to be on one of the best in Northern Virginia.

Terms of sale. Three per cent off for cash or a nine months' note with satisfactory indorsement.

Lunch served on grounds.

David N. Rust, Jr. owner, 1400 H Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Rapid Gain in Enlistments Announced by Marine Corps

Washington, Dec. 7.—November recruiting figures for the Marine Corps show that the sea-soldiers last month exceeded by a comfortable margin their record for any month prior or subsequent to the world war. Not only did November lead in enlistments over the two prior lively recruiting months, but also in actual gain. The figures leaped upwards. The desertion decreased materially and discharges for all other reasons fell well below those of September and October. One third of the total 1760 enlistments for November, [illegible] the three [illegible] total strength [illegible] present rate of enlistments the authorized strength of 27,400 will be reached before summer.

The factor of unemployment, negligible until October, showed an appreciable increase in November, but was less noticeable in the middle West than in other sections of the country.

LEAGUE VOTES TO GO SLOW ON AMENDMENTS

Geneva, Dec. 7.—The League of Nations Assembly decided yesterday to go slow and step softly in amending the covenant and to extend that policy to the interpretation of the relations between the Council and the Assembly with regard to their respective duties and jurisdictions.

The Canadian amendment eliminating article X, and the Argentine amendment declaring that all sovereign states shall be members of the League that do not remain outside of their own choice were referred to a special committee which will study all the proposed changes in the covenant and report to the next assembly.

The question as to what are the exact relations between the council and the assembly was temporarily and partially settled by the adoption of a sort of working basis in the form of the four general principles enunciated in the recent report of the committee presided over by Mr. Balfour, with certain amendments.
